Tuesday, June 7, 2022
6:00 PM
Racine Public Library
The Lee Room
75 Seventh Street
Racine, Wisconsin

Lost Architectural Treasures

PLEASE NOTE THE DATE AND TIME CHANGES

Instead of our usual first Monday meeting time, the date and time of this meeting has been changed to accommodate the library's scheduling. Please mark your calendars so you don't arrive late for this interesting program. The lecture will end shortly before library closing time of 8:00 PM to allow members to enjoy camaraderie and light refreshments.

A number of years ago, Preservation Racine presented a talk on some of the many mansions and other noteworthy buildings that have not survived and were lost to posterity due to being razed, fires and other disasters. Our Debbie Yale has researched these Lost Treasures and has updated the list with more of their stories as well as adding other buildings that also met a sad fate. This program is being presented in conjunction with the Racine Public Library.

Please enter the building through the north east lower-level doors. The Lee Room is on the first floor. Parking is free after 6:00 PM.
